CONTACT

 olga-application.github.io

✉ olga.application@outlook.com

📍 EU-based | Remote-friendly

EDUCATION

- PhD in Public Administration
- Higher Education in Law
- Continuous learning via trainings and certifications in education, innovation & project management.

Educational Solutions and Digital Learning Product Management

Hands-on experience in developing and implementing learning strategies grounded in a deep understanding of audience needs and modern educational trends. Proficient in a wide range of tools for designing, digitalizing, and scaling educational content, including:

- Instructional design and curriculum development
- Creation of blended and online courses (LMS, SCORM, Articulate, Captivate)
- Microlearning, adaptive formats, and interactive training programs
- Application of AI technologies for personalized learning and learning analytics
- Cross-functional team coordination (instructional designers, content developers, marketing)
- Implementation of international projects and customized business-oriented learning solutions.

OLGA D.

PHD | INSTRUCTIONAL DESIGN SPECIALIST | EDUCATIONAL PROGRAM & EDTECH DEVELOPER | INTERNATIONAL PROJECT LEAD IN EDUCATION

Education specialist with over 10 years of experience in curriculum development, project management, and implementing innovative educational solutions. Holds a PhD in Public Administration, combining analytical thinking and a scientific approach with practical expertise in delivering educational initiatives for both academic institutions and businesses.

Possesses a strong background in designing educational courses and materials tailored to current market demands, as well as coordinating interdisciplinary teams. Successfully led multiple international educational projects. Specializes in the full cycle of educational product development — from concept and launch to ongoing performance evaluation.

WORK EXPERIENCE

Coordination of International Educational Projects — Remote
2023 — Present

- Participation in the development and implementation of educational initiatives across the EU region.
- Designing curricula and methodological materials that address labor market demands, professional development, as well as the needs of private clients and businesses.
- Managing projects focused on the delivery of training courses for diverse audiences — from professional development programs to bespoke training commissioned by private clients.
- Coordinating interdisciplinary teams and collaborating with international partners.

Associate Professor
Department of Public Administration — Remote
2017 — Present

- Developing, updating, and adapting curricula, syllabi, and educational materials in accordance with current academic standards and market needs.
- Implementing innovative teaching methods and online courses to enhance student engagement and academic performance.
- Conducting research with publications in peer-reviewed journals and participation in international conferences; translating research outcomes into educational products.
- Delivering lectures, leading seminars and practical sessions, and providing academic and research advising.
- Coordinating international projects in partnership with academic and educational institutions to implement joint educational initiatives.